

Article

Alterglobalization, Global Social Movements, and the Possibility of Political Transformation Through Sport

Harvey, Jean, Horne, John and Safai, Parissa

Available at <http://clok.uclan.ac.uk/4665/>

Harvey, Jean, Horne, John ORCID: 0000-0003-4389-8204 and Safai, Parissa (2009) Alterglobalization, Global Social Movements, and the Possibility of Political Transformation Through Sport. Sociology of Sport Journal, 26 (3). pp. 383-403. ISSN 0741-1235

It is advisable to refer to the publisher's version if you intend to cite from the work.

For more information about UCLan's research in this area go to <http://www.uclan.ac.uk/researchgroups/> and search for <name of research Group>.

For information about Research generally at UCLan please go to <http://www.uclan.ac.uk/research/>

All outputs in CLoK are protected by Intellectual Property Rights law, including Copyright law. Copyright, IPR and Moral Rights for the works on this site are retained by the individual authors and/or other copyright owners. Terms and conditions for use of this material are defined in the policies page.

Alterglobalization, Global Social Movements, and the Possibility of Political Transformation Through Sport

Authors: Jean Harvey, John Horne, Parissa Safai

Location: Sociology of sport journal, ISSN 0741-1235, Vol. 26, N° 3, 2009 , pp. 383-403

Abstract:

Alterglobalization is the name for a large spectrum of global social movements that present themselves as supporting new forms of globalization, urging that values of democracy, justice, environmental protection, and human rights be put ahead of purely economic concerns. This article develops a framework for the study of the influence of alterglobalization on sport by: outlining a periodization of social movements and sport; proposing a typology of responses to the politics of globalization; and proposing a typology of recent social movements associated with sport. The article does not report on an empirical research project, but provides a stock take of what has happened since the 1990s regarding the politics of globalization and the politics of sport, with specific reference to global social movements. The questions raised in this article include: What form do the movements challenging the world sports order today take? Does an alterglobalization movement exist in sport? What alternative models of sport do they propose?