

EAST (hyphen) WEST

— Sound Impressions of Istanbul —

Magda Stenaraka-Başaran

EAST (hyphen) WEST

— SOUND IMPRESSIONS OF ISTANBUL —

by Magda Stenaraka-Başaran

*Personal reflections on Istanbul written by three authors in Turkish and English.
Translated by Yusuf Davut and Robert Dichter, introduced and edited by Dr. Nur Cengiz.*

The Three Translators: Robert Cengiz

Translated: Ayfer Ünal

My East and Istanbul: Yusuf Davut

A Fall Book of Translations from an Istanbul Journalist

A fall book of translations from an Istanbul Journalist

... a book, a researcher, a thought, a
... that the people of the world, who
... that the people of the world, who
... that the people of the world, who

... that the people of the world, who
... that the people of the world, who
... that the people of the world, who

... that the people of the world, who
... that the people of the world, who
... that the people of the world, who

... that the people of the world, who
... that the people of the world, who
... that the people of the world, who

... that the people of the world, who
... that the people of the world, who
... that the people of the world, who

... that the people of the world, who
... that the people of the world, who
... that the people of the world, who

... that the people of the world, who
... that the people of the world, who
... that the people of the world, who

... that the people of the world, who
... that the people of the world, who
... that the people of the world, who

... that the people of the world, who
... that the people of the world, who
... that the people of the world, who

... that the people of the world, who
... that the people of the world, who
... that the people of the world, who

... that the people of the world, who
... that the people of the world, who
... that the people of the world, who

... that the people of the world, who
... that the people of the world, who
... that the people of the world, who

... that the people of the world, who
... that the people of the world, who
... that the people of the world, who

... that the people of the world, who
... that the people of the world, who
... that the people of the world, who

... that the people of the world, who
... that the people of the world, who
... that the people of the world, who

Dr. Nur Cengiz