

ART EXHIBITION

Notes from a Precarious Landscape

Plot 188, Story Homes Waterside Development, Cottam Way, Preston PR4 0WJ

Artists Ian Nesbitt and Ruth Levene have invited residents of Preston and its surrounding villages to take part in an exhibition about how the outskirts of Preston and the land around the city is changing or has changed in the past. Situated in the currently vacant Plot 188, the exhibition explores the relationships between people and place, city and surrounding landscape, through the lens of the people who live and work in Preston. The exhibition includes prints, poems, maps, sound recordings, photographs and watercolour paintings from the John Weld collection at the Harris Museum & Art Gallery.

Open to the public:
