Further Help For Shepherd Street Home

IN the midst of Christmas activities our readers have not overlooked the claims of Shepherd Street Mission Home. This is evident from the long list, published to-day, of further donations to "The Lancashire Daily Post" appeal for this excellent cause.

In setting a target of £1,000, we aimed high—but not, we feel, too high. The target is coming within sight and, if the generous spirit already shown is maintained, will be reached. The latest list:—

For a Good Cause

Generous Gifts For Shepherd Street Home

THE great kindness of our readers is both impressive and very encouraging. So many people are ready to help where there is a deserving cause.

Every day, from many sources, this is shown by the generous donations received for our special "Post" fund for the children of the Shepherd Street Mission Home.

The total so far received is very near the half-way mark to the £1,000 target. We go forward confidently, with the kind co-operation of the public, to complete the task.

Kindly Help

More Donations for Shepherd Street Appeal

FEELINGS of goodwill and kindly thoughts for others are deep and widespread at this season of the year, and all good and deserving causes rightly benefit.

This is clearly reflected in the generous response of our readers to the appeal of "The Lancashire Daily Post" for Shepherd Street Mission Home. Donations from many sources continue to reach us, and now that the £700 mark has been passed we feel confident that the £1,000 target can be reached.
