Uni celebrates students' successes

Students from the Faculty of Health at the University of Central Lancashire will be celebrating their successes at the forthcoming graduation ceremony at Preston Guildhall on Monday 3 December 2001.

The students, many of whom will be Lancashire's nursing, caring and health professionals of the future, will be awarded their degrees by new Chancellor Sir Richard Evans. During the ceremony, the University will be awarding an Honorary Fellowship to Malcolm Rae OBE, well-known for his work in the policy and practice of mental health nursing.

On Tuesday 4 December, the University's postgraduate students will receive their awards. The University will also be honouring former Chancellor, Sir Francis Kennedy with the award of Honorary Doctorate at the same ceremony.
